EPSM Student Taylor Vogt Launches Sustainability- Focused Youtube Channel

Environmental Policy and Sustainability Management student Taylor Vogt has launched a new youtube channel about sustainability related topics, focusing on climate change: Brundtland Report. The channel features topical stories and discussions, based on the latest climate and sustainability news. Taylor is seeking contributors to the show. Get involved to become a voice for sustainability and give your ideas on the issues a platform. Share your interests in expanding the programming offered through the network. All backgrounds and ideas are welcome!

- A daily news show on one topic at a time!
- A roundtable discussion on issues with students and guests of all backgrounds!
- A weekly review news show!
- Interviews with sustainability professionals!
- Broadcasts live from sustainability events!

For more information, or to share an idea for the next episode, contact Taylor: vogtt141@newschool.edu
