Spring 2017 Environmental Policy and Sustainability Management Capstone Presentations

Join the Environmental Policy and Sustainability Management Program at the Milano School of International Affairs, Management, and Urban Policy for a showcase of graduate research in the field of environmental policy and sustainability management.

The Capstone Projects are the outcome of the Advanced Seminar in the program. The seminar provides students with a culminating, capstone experience through individual research- and practice-based projects, in which they bring their knowledge and critical perspectives to a real-world challenge.
