

Tishman Environment
and Design Center

TISHMAN CENTER · JUNE 7, 2019

Faculty Grant Recipient Davida Smyth talks about making science labs more sustainable

2018-2019 Faculty grant recipient Davida Smyth, a professor at Lang, wants to reduce the amount of plastic waste that is ubiquitous in science labs and utilized her Tishman Center faculty grant to change how things are done at the science lab in the University Center. Watch the video below to see what she did and how she plans to make teaching laboratories everywhere less wasteful.

Tishman Environment and Design Center

BONUS VIDEO: Like any good scientist, Davida is curious about a lot of things and wants to know how e-cigarettes will impact people's health and the environment. In this short video, she talks about a project that aims to investigate just that.

Tishman Environment and Design Center

Share

Comments (0)

Newest First