Join the sustainability dream team! Tishman Center Assistant Director for Sustainability Initiatives, Molly Craft Johnson, and Buildings Assistant Director of Sustainable Initiatives, Erik Eibert, will host a workshop discussion about sustainability at The New School. Enjoy lunch at this town hall-style meeting and learn all about the ongoing efforts to make The New School a more sustainable institution. Engage in an activity which aims to facilitate the exchange of information between the sustainability team and the students and faculty who attend. If you've ever had a thought about reducing waste, cutting our carbon emissions, or supporting environmental justice, we want to hear about it.
